

Wealth Wednesday Tip #574: Retiring this year? Boost your cash reserves

Given the potential for stock market volatility, it's an especially good idea to go heavy on cash reserves if you're retiring in the coming year. A year's worth of expenses in cash is a good goal to aim for, as it will help you leave your investments untouched as needed.

(Source: Fool)

<https://www.fool.com/retirement/2020/12/20/retiring-in-2021-4-moves-to-make-today/>